

20th International Postgraduate Course on Lysosomal Storage Disorders

14 – 17 June 2023

Topics

- Biology of the lysosome
- Pathophysiology of selected LSDs
- Mechanisms of neurodegeneration
- Clinical presentation of LSDs
- MRI changes
- Eye manifestation and therapies
- Bone disease and therapies
- Prenatal manifestation
- Laboratory diagnosis, newborn screening
- Applied treatments and outcome
- New therapeutic options, gene therapy
- Patients' Organizations

Location: Nierstein, wine village close to Mainz, at the river Rhine (see photo)

Unique features: Vivid and extremely interactive course
Intensive discussions between participants and faculty members
Outstanding networking opportunities

Applicants: Physicians or scientists with interest in LSDs and with clinical experience. The number of participants is limited.

Application to: ims@um-mainz.de

Organized by: Villa Metabolica
University Medical Center Mainz
Professor Julia B. Hennermann julia.hennermann@unimedizin-mainz.de