

16th International Postgraduate Course on Lysosomal Storage Disorders

Participants

Applicants should be young physicians with a few years of clinical experience. They should be seeing patients with LSDs and they should have an interest in LSDs.

All participants are asked to prepare a case report which will be presented and discussed in small groups during the course. A short abstract of the case which will be presented should be included in the application form. All applications should be sent to Mrs. Sabine Michels (ims@um-mainz.de). Deadline for application is 15 April 2017. The date of submission of the application will be considered, and participants may receive confirmation of their participation already before 15 April 2017.

The following costs will be covered:

- Registration fee
- Accommodation for 3 nights (exception: participants coming from abroad)
- Meals during the course
- Shuttle either from Frankfurt International Airport or from Mainz main railway station (No transport/shuttle from Airport Frankfurt Hahn!)

The following costs will not be covered:

- Costs for traveling (flight, train, car, etc.)
- Participants are asked to organize travelling by their own
- Participants from lower income countries may apply for funding of their travel costs

Questions regarding logistics and organization should be addressed to:

IMS GmbH, Sabine Michels

Tel: +49-6131/17-5763 • Fax: +49-6131/17-6608

ims@um-mainz.de

Questions regarding the scientific content of the course should be addressed to:

Professor Julia B. Hennermann

Department of Pediatric and Adolescent Medicine

Johannes Gutenberg-University Mainz

julia.hennermann@unimedizin-mainz.de